FINAL RALLY HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

THOUSANDS LAUD CANDIDATES ROCKDALE

REGAL CITY SPLENDID IN HONOR TO VISITORS

Hospitality was in flower and the Regal City justified anew its enviable position as an entertanment center Friday night when the Demoeratic Rally took county and district candidates there for the official speaking date under direction of the Democratic Executive Committee.

Mayor E. A. Camp who directed arrangements as Committeeman for the precinct had the aid of Homer Turner, Legion Commander and a committee from the Post.

Conservative estimates of the crowd place the attendance at 3500. It was the largest political gathering for a similar occasion ever held in Milam County.

The committee placed seats for 1000 on the pavement leading from the main thoroughfare. There crowds was attentive and remained to hear the last speakers, although it was midnight when the program was completed.

Out of their generosity the people did not offer anything for sale. They followed the usual custom of presenting to each candidate a cake. These cakes, splendid in quality and appearance were in glass cases at the rear of the speakers stand and were presented to each speaker by Chairman J. B. White who presided. He thanked the ladies of Rockdale for their contribution to the program. Emory B. Camp, member of the legislature, received a specially prepared cake with his name attached. Chairman White also received a cake thus prepared. It was presented on behalf of the city by John E. Cook, publisher of the Rockdale Reporter.

About an hour before the speaking began the firemen were called out to cool the pavement with water. This was greatly advantageous. There was plenty of ice water. The Thorndale Band under the direction of Mr. Peterson was given a supper and several cakes.

The meeting was one of the best arranged political gatherings in the history of the county and visitors from all sections praise the hospitality of the people of Rockdale.

Tributes were paid to Emory B. Camp and Miss Irma Porter by Chairman White. It was their homecoming, for both live in the Regal City.

Pundt Seeks Votes From Hospital Bed

JOHN PUNDT

This is a strange form of campaigning for a healthy, vigorous man, but John Pundt, Railroad Commission Candidate finds it more comfortable until his broken ribs mend. He will finish his speaking engagements by radio. Pundt was injured near Victoria a week ago when his car overturned as the result of a blowout. His publicity director, Preston Sneed of Dallas, was killed in the crash, and Eugene Smith his campaign manager was cut severely on the head.

DISTRESS CATTLE ARE SHIPPED; FORMS LATE

Up to date 762 head of cattle were shipped from Milam county under the Emergency Drouth Relief Program.

There are at this time about 120 applications on file at the office of the drouth director upstairs over the tax collector's offce here in Cameron.

No application forms are on hand at this time, but we are expecting forms soon. These forms are being shipped out of Washington to College Station, and are expected to arrive at any time. The county agents were expecting these forms to reach the agents office by Wednesday the 25th, but we were advised today by College Station that these forms had not arrived.

Just as soon as the application forms arrive at the county agents office farmers will be notified and forms will be available in Cameron, Rockdale and Thorndale.

We are told that the Government will buy all drouth-stricken cattle just as fast as possible but it will take some time, already the stockyards are clogged with Government cattle and all shipments were ordered halted for a few days.

Our veterinary inspector, Dr. Booth, and appraisor M. C. Brandon received orders Sunday to inspect cattle in Milam county on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each week. Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays of each week to inspect cattle in Falls county. So that gives them only three days a week in Milam county for work. This will naturally take some weeks to get to all the people. We trust the people will be patient and co-operate in getting this work done just as fast as possible.

Very truly yours,
GEO. BANZHAF,
County Agent.

Jail For Silence

Ollie Whatley, Fort Worth guitar player, was divorced from his wife. She held custody of their son, Robert Clifton. Mrs. Whatley married Ira Nelson and later died. The boy was declared dependent by the court and given to the custody of Nelson—until Whatley kidnaped the boy. A district court placed Whatley in jail; his stay being contingent on his telling the whereabouts of the boy. Whatley vowed he'd never tell, but a week's incarceration changed his plans. There the case hangs to date. Whatley is pictured above in the Dallas county jail. (Texas News Photos)

FIRST BALE OF 1934 IS GINNED IN CITY

The first bale of 1934 cotton was ginned here from the farm of E. B. Yeager at Maysfiled. It was ginned at the Slocomb gin plant here and was purchased at 15c per pound by the Cotton Co-Pperative Association at auction.

Last year Ed Junek of Ad Hall sold the first bale at 12 1-2c. Mr. Yeager received a premium of $55 which made the bale net around $120.

Drouth conditions have made cotton mature early. The county will have a short crop.

Texas' oldest living and active cowboy, Hiram Craig, is in Cameron on his way to Brenham, his home.

He is riding his famous saddle horse, Dandy, a chestnut sorrel. Recently he left Brenham for Cross Plains in a test ride to show both the endurance of horse flesh as well as the strength of the old men of the plains. He is 80 years of age.

In 1925 he won a pony express ride from Houston to San Antonio winning by 20 minutes against a rider from Dallas. On his ride up to Cross Plains a distance of 475 miles, he made it in 74 hours. He is riding for the last round up. Soon the sun will set on this plainsman who knows more about the early camp fire and range history than any living man.

In other days he was interested as now in a monument to the old trail driver in association with the late George W. Saunders of San Antonio.

Mr. Craig is an old resident of Belton. In Cameron he is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Garrett, W. L. Hazelwood. John Radke is an old friend as well as J. E. Holtzclaw who was a pioneer city marshal in Belton. Also he is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Parnell.

Watch others Copy G-3 claims, but remember: 1. Before a tire can give "Non-Skid Mileage" it must have REAL "Non-Skid." G-3 gives Center Traction—non-skid diamonds where they can dig in and GRIP. 2. The Body must be able "to take it" too. Supertwist Cord (Goodyear patent) supports new G-3 tread easily.

The G-3 Is Better Than We Say It Is!

Yes sir—people who got the new G-3 All-Weather before it was advertised and have driven this marvelous tire many thousands of miles, are singing its praises louder than our advertising does! Particularly do they insist that the new G-3 gives better than the "43% more non-skid mileage" we advertise! Which is an unusual situation, we admit—but not so surprising because: actually the new G-3 is the greatest tire that was ever built. All we ask is, before you buy tires give us a chance to show you why G-3 users boost it even stronger than we do!

Astonishing New G-3

DRAMA . . . tours again

The project of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for giving employment to actors by arranging for dozens of traveling theatrical companies which will present good plays free of charge for the entertainment of everybody, seems to me like a highly commendable idea. A good many of these traveling companies will tour in automobiles, carrying stage, scenery and equipment on trucks, and giving their performance out of doors in good weather.

To millions of Americans it will come as a novelty to see real actors on the stage. The best that the movies can do has not the appeal of seeing the performers in the flesh.

It will be a good thing for the nation if this movement revives interest "on the road" in the spoken drama.

PLEASURE . . . was sinful

The prejudice against the theater which was emphasized by many of the church denominations in America and England for more than two hundred years was only partly due to the obscenities of the early theater. The Puritans regarded it as immoral to indulge in any amusement purely for pleasure. As Macaulay wrote of England's prohibition against public fights between bears and bulldogs in the 17th century, Cromwell and his followers stopped it not because it gave pain to the bear but because it gave pleasure to the spectators.

After the overthrow of the Puritan regime in England, and the restoration of the Stuarts to the throne, the reaction against this discipline ran wild, and the stage in the days of Charles II and his brother, James II, was so rawly indecent as to confirm the good Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Baptists and Methodists in their belief that the theater was the ante-room of Hell.

Something of the same sort of reaction against the movies is now beginning in religious circles, with even the more liberal denominations taking part in it. This time it is not prejudice against pleasure as such, but against the commercial exploitation of false and subversive ideas to the young. It should not be difficult for the movies to "clean up," once their promoters get rid of the idea that people won't pay to see clean shows.

"TOM" . . . sure-fire hit

The first of these outdoor performances to be ready for the road is the play which has been given oftener any other drama ever written in any language—"Uncle Tom's Cabin." It had its first performance under Government auspices on the upper East Side of New York a few days ago.

Uncle Tom's Cabin has been played by so many different companies, tent shows, wagon shows, boat shows and railroad shows that "Tommers" are a distinct class in the world of the theater. I looked into the subject some years ago and found that more than 100 different companies presenting this ancient play in different parts of the country at one time. It is almost actor-proof; the story and sentiment sweep the audience no matter how badly it is played.

The grandson of Harriet Beecher Stowe, from whose anti-slavery book the play was taken, is one of my country neighbors. He tells me that his grandmother, who had a Puritanical prejudice against the theatre, never authorized the book's dramatization nor realized a cent from the many presentations of the play.

REVIVAL . . . Old Homestead

Up in my home county of Berkshire, Massachusetts, we have a little theater, the Berkshire Playhouse, in which every Summer there is an eight-weeks season of plays, presented by first-rate actors, many of them Broadway stars. People drive from forty miles away to attend the performances. But the best show we have had in several seasons was an amateur performance of an old favorite, "The Old Homestead."

Young men and women from half a dozen neighboring villages spent their spare time all spring rehearsing this play, which hadn't been given in a regular theater since Denman Thompson, its author and star, died more than forty years ago. They not only put on a first-rate performance, but they demonstrated that people will still flock to see a "clean" play.

Sophisticated "modern" critics sneer at such homely dramatic fare as The Old Homestead and Uncle Tom's Cabin, but the young folks of today get as much pleasure out of them as their grandparents did.

RELIGION . . . tolerant today

The religious prejudice against the remarriage of persons who have been divorced has greatly faded out almost everywhere. Its basis, of course, was in the human tendencies to make pleasure the main end of life, instead of a by-product. Young folks are prone to confuse pleasure with happiness, which are not the same thing at all.

But I think I can discern, among the many young folk of both sexes with whom I come into contact, a distinctly religious spirit growing more strongly all the time. Just as I find in most churches a growing spirit of tolerance of harmless pleasures, even on Sunday.

I know some suburban and rural churches that hold an eight-o'clock service every Summer Sunday morning just for golfers and fishermen.

Kept Taking Cardui Until She Got Rid of the Severe Pains

When Mrs. Ida Hays, of Edinburg, Ind., was in a painful, run-down condition, she took Cardui, with the results she describes below: "I had just been what one might say dragging around, feeling miserable and all out of sorts. I remembered how Cardui helped my aunt. I sent for six bottles of Cardui and when I had taken them, I was much better and stronger. I did not suffer so much pain. I continued taking Cardui until I had taken nine bottles. I do not have the severe pains." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefitted them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

VOTE FOR

EMORY B. CAMP

FOR A

SECOND TERM

AS

REPRESENTATIVE

MILAM COUNTY

A Poor Time to Change Horses

The pioneers of this country had a maxim that it was a poor time to change horses while fording the stream. That maxim applies today in many of the affairs of men other than traveling by horse-drawn conveyance. It applies to matters of statesmanship and politics. It applies right now to the voters who are soon to choose men to represent them in the United States Senate, in the Congress and in the State Legislature.

What Reporterman has said above applies with equal force to the office of Representative to our State Legislature. In Emory B. Camp, Milam county has an able representative, serving his first term, and by all the rules of Democratic precedent is entitled to a second term. There is not a blot or a blemish on his personal character or official record. He has been ever active in behalf of his home county, and his every official act in the Legislature has been with a view to promoting the interests of the citizens of Milam county and of Texas.

Not one single good reason can be given in support of the proposition to supplant him with another: Democratic usage, properly applied, should have returned him for a second term without opposition. Only a total lack of appreciation for good service well rendered can be responsible for the attempt to defeat him. And the thinking voters of Milam county will not stand for that.

Two years ago when Mr. Camp was making his initial race for this office the only thing that was brought out on the stump against him was in the form of references to his youth and inexperience. Now that he is two years older, and with a lot of experience to his credit, he is being opposposed by one who is still younger than he was two years ago, and who is totally lacking in experience.

Reporterman contends that it would be a mighty poor horse swap to trade Camp off at this time. Texas is right in the middle of a troublous stream. There are busy days ahead for the Texas Legislature. Problems are to be solved that will require the best of our talent. Experience in the halls of legislative effort will be valuable. Likewise will honor and integrity and ability be at a premium. We know we have all these characteristics in Emory B. Camp. Why even consider losing them? Why swap off a good horse for one of unknown merit?

Not for one minute would this newspaper reflect upon the character, honor or integrity of Mr. Camp's opponent. He is a nice young man, a student in the University at Austin. He has a perfect right to run for office, and his aspirations are no doubt commendable. But he has plenty of time ahead of him to fill public office. Right now we need a man from Milam county in the Legislature who knows what it is all about. Whose previous experience and splendid personality and undoubted ability will receive recognition on the floor and in committee rooms.

Milam county voters should consider well before swapping horses in the middle of the stream. Reporterman refuses to believe they will do it. Rather, he prefers to believe that they are going to do the right thing—the Democratic thing—and give Emory B. Camp a second term.—Reprint From Rockdale Reporter.

New "Terrell" Loses Right To Use of Name

Dallas, Texas, July 20.—Judge Tom A. Work Friday revoked in its entirety a previous court order which gave Jefferson T. Baker, a candidate for the office of state treasurer under the name of "George B. Terrell" the right to use the name of Terrell.

The decision came at the conclusion of lengthy testimony in behalf of Congressman George B. Terrell of Alto, prominent in Texas for many years. The Congressman filed suit last week asking that the court order by which Baker changed his name to Terrell be annulled.

At the same session, Judge Work disbarred Baker from future practice in Sixty-Eighth District Court, saying the young lawyer had perpetrated a fraud on the court at the time he succeeded several weeks ago in having his name changed to "George B. Terrell."

Appellate Court Says CAMP Was Right

TO THE VOTERS:

The Fourth Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio on Wednesday of this week rendered an opinion and judgment, holding that the Texas Second Moratorium Act is unconstitutional.

This Act was known as Senate Bill No. 3, and is the one (and only one) pertaining to moratoriums against which I voted. I voted against it because, as a lawyer, I felt sure it was unconstitutional and would be so declared by the Courts. The Court's decision Wednesday proves that I was right.

My opposition has been playing up the fact that I voted against this bill. I have told the voters from the stump that I voted against it because I knew it was nothing but a cheap brand of politics, was unconstitutional, and would not give the relief needed.

As a member of the Legislature I voted for five separate moratorium bills with a view to helping land and home owners. I voted against this one (Senate Bill No. 3) because I knew it was unconstitutional.

Do you not feel that my position on this law has been established as correct by this Court decision?

Again I offer the people of Milam county my services and my legal talents, and I cordially solicit your vote Saturday for a second term, pledging myself to ever keep a watchful eye for "niggers in the woodpile" and for the best interests of the people of Milam county.

They needed something to cleanse their systems and Syrup of Black-Draught acted well." . . . Your druggist sells this reliable laxative in both forms. "Children like the Syrup."

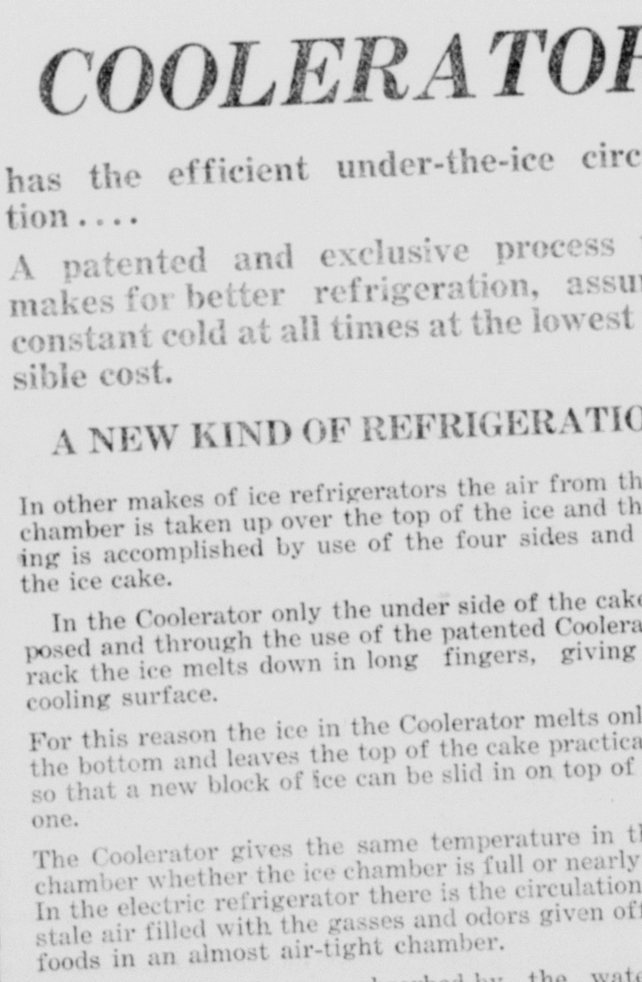
. . . . For New and Better Refrigeration

the Coolerator



ONLY THE

has the efficient under-the-ice circulation . . . .

A patented and exclusive process that makes for better refrigeration, assuring constant cold at all times at the lowest possible cost.

A NEW KIND OF REFRIGERATION

In other makes of ice refrigerators the air from the food chamber is taken up over the top of the ice and the cooling is accomplished by use of the four sides and top of the ice cake.

In the Coolerator only the under side of the cake is exposed and through the use of the patented Coolerator fin rack the ice melts down in long fingers, giving extra cooling surface.

For this reason the ice in the Coolerator melts only from the bottom and leaves the top of the cake practically flat so that a new block of ice can be slid in on top of the old one.

The Coolerator gives the same temperature in the food chamber whether the ice chamber is full or nearly empty. In the electric refrigerator there is the circulation of dry, stale air filled with the gasses and odors given off by the foods in an almost air-tight chamber.

The gasses and odors are absorbed by the water that makes the ice cubes. In the Coolerator, these gasses and odors are absorbed by the water from the melting ice and carried away down the drain pipe without doing any harm.

Seeks Governorship

MAURY HUGHES

With the biennial governor's race drawing to a close, supporters of Maury Hughes are claiming that the former state Democratic chairman will go into the run-off as the champion of the liberal Democrats.

They admit the drys will put a candidate into the running. But they claim that Mr. Hughes will oppose him in August and that he will win.

Mr. Hughes took the lead in the cause of liberal politics when the pendulum first began to swing back toward liberal government. Although not holding nor seeking office, he gave much of his time to state and national party affairs. He led a liberal delegation from his home county to the state convention in 1932, and the Texas delegation to Chicago made him their spokesman and the Texas member of the platform committee.

His five-minute speech for the repeal plank at Chicago was one of the sensations of the convention.

President Roosevelt took cognizance of his party service and made him chairman of the state NRA Advisory Board. He also was elected chairman of the state Democratic executive committee two years ago.

Hughes is fighting the sales tax idea, proposing instead a tax on liquor and on intangible assets. He is for old-age pensions, lower auto license taxes, and for lengthening of rural school terms, even if it takes highway money to do it.

Boy Scout News

Troop 52 met July 20, 1934. In the absence of Scoutmaster Lindle, assistant Scoutmaster Shorty Matula took charge and conducted the meeting. The Fox Patrol gained 102 points on the X Patrol by having a hundred per cent attendance and the present standing is Fox 3601 and X 1997. Next Friday the contest will end and the grand prize awarded.

For entertainment Paul Michalka and Edward Matocha gave some piano selections, the Fox Patrol made some speeches on various subjects and the X Patrol presented the Philadelphia Orchestra—it was Troop 52 and it was not an orchestra—it was a French harp band and it didn't only see mphony, it was phony.

We hope that Eagle Scout C. W. Gjedde is enjoying his visit in Waco.

P. S. Watch out fellows, the Question Mark Patrol has 423 points.

K. of C. Team Beat Sandow

Continuing the victory march in the South Milam League, the Cameron K. of C. team took advantage of each of the nine Sandow errors as they pounded their opponents for a 17 to 0 decision Sunday, July 22.

Previous to this evening Sandow was leading the league with two games won and none lost. Now Cameron is in their place having defeated Rockdale last Sunday 18 to 7. Ladis Matula struck out 16 Rockdale batters.

Ted Matula allowed Sandow only one hit, a scratch single by Young in the fourth inning, and struck out nine men. He further helped his cause by hitting a triple to left field with the bases loaded in the fifth inning. Captain Shorty Matula hit a home run with one on in the second frame.

Next week the K. of C. team will play Salty at Salty. However, if possible the game will be changed to Cameron.

Tom Choate Wins Fiddling Contest At Rogers Rally

A number of Cameron citizens attended the all day rally held in Rogers last week when there was estimated to be present 4,000 people. There were 65 state and county candidates who spoke during the day.

At this time free watermelons were served. An old time fiddlers' contest divided time with the speakers, when Tom Choate won first prize, H. H. Young won second and third went to A. Dewitt.

In the boxing contest Robert Johns of Rogers won a decision in five rounds on Bennie Breen.

He now is a candidate for attorney general of the state. In the years since he was admitted to the bar, after a course of study in which he surmounted the obstacles of limited resources and financed himself, McCraw has grown in legal statue and matured in wisdom. George Mayo Newton's Reply to Camp's Circular!

When bills, resolutions or important motions are voted on in the Legislature the votes are recorded in the Journal and preserved that the people may know how their respective Representatives voted and thereby know their Representatives.

I am going to set out Mr. Camp's vote on a number of important matters and see how many of my readers can reconcile his record with his re-election.

The people of this State at the last election voted to have an Elective Highway Commission because that was the chief plank in Governor Ferguson's platform.

When House Bill 226, creating an Elective Highway Commission was before the House for its action Mr. Camp voted against the bill. (See page 1786 of the Journal, Regular Session). Did Mr. Camp keep faith with the people in this Vote? Is he opposed to the people electing their officers? Does he think the people have not sense or patriotism enough to elect a Highway Commission.

When Senate Bill 416, giving the Banks a Moratorium was before the House Mr. Camp voted for it. (Page 673, Journal, Regular Session).

When Senate Bill 421, giving Insurance Companies a Moratorium was before the House Mr. Camp voted for it. (Page 788, Journal, Regular Session).

A moratorium is an emergency act of the Legislature authorizing a debtor to suspend payments for a given period.

This is what Mr. Camp did for the Banks and Insurance Companies. But what was Mr. Camp's attitude as reflected by his vote when the people wanted a moratorium to protect their farms and ranches and homes from foreclosure and sale? Surely a man who had voted to give Banks and Insurance Companies the protection of a moratorium would not deny the same protection to the people in the dark days of depression and distress and disaster to save their homes. But Mr. Camp did this very thing, for when Senate Bill 3 was before the House for action to give the people a moratorium to save their homes Mr. Camp voted against the bill. (Page 511 to 515, Journal, Second Called Session).

When the Race Horse Bill, House Bill 12, was before the House to legalize horse racing Mr. Camp voted against it. (Page 535, Journal, First Called Session). When the bill was passed and a vote was taken to put it into immediate effect Mr. Camp voted against doing so and thereby gave to the race tracks of the State more than $100,000.00 which would have gone to the State had the bill gone into immediate effect, more than $25,000.00 of which would have gone to the Public School Fund.

Mr. Camp voted against legalizing horse racing in this State but voted to legalize dog racing. (Page 179, Journal, First Called Session).

Mr. Camp voted against issuing the bread bonds notwithstanding hunger and want, clad in rags, stalked through many places in his district. (Page 518 to 526, Journal, Second Called Session). The vote appears on Page 526.

The Last Legislature reduced the cost of Government about Thirteen Million Dollars. Mr. Camp is claiming credit for helping to do this, notwithstanding he voted against such reduction. The greatest reduction in the cost of Government was brought about by the passage of House Bill 167, the Departmental Appropriations Bill. It was in this Bill that State salaries were reduced and a great saving to the State was thereby brought about. Mr. Camp voted against the passage of this Bill. (See House Bill 167, Journal, Regular Session, Page 2441 to 2442).

In March 1933, Mr. Camp voted for House Bill No. 167 when it came up for final passage in the House. The bill then went to the Senate and was there amended to include a rider to legalize horse racing. The Bill was then sent to a free conference committee in May 1933. Mr. Camp voted against the free conference committee report as shown on page 2442 of the House Journal of Regular Session. This was the last and final vote on Bill No. 167 before it became a law.

Mr. Camp says in explantion of his vote against this Departmental Appropriation Bill No. 167, was because it carried an amendment legalizing horse racing.

Mr. Camp voted for an amendment to House Bill No. 12 to legalize dog racing. If horse racing is objectionable, why did he vote to legalize dog racing?

Gambling is done on dog racing as well as on horse racing.

Mr. Camp says he voted for five moratoriums to prevent foreclosures on farms and ranches. The moratoriums he voted for brought little or no relief. Senate Bill No. 418, House Bill No. 914 of Regular Session, and House Bill No. 4 Second Called Session gave only 30 days relief. Senate Bill No. 489 of the Regular Session gave only 120 days relief. House Bill No. 231 Regular Session gave only 180 days relief. All of these Mr. Camp voted for. They were almost worthless to the people.

Mr. Camp voted against Senate Bill No. 3. This bill was the only moratorium bill brought up in either the regular or special sessions that could have given the people necessary relief. This Bill, Senate Bill No. 3 was for a one year moratorium from debts and foreclosures. In the House 117 voted for this Bill. Mr. Camp was one of the 11 members to vote against the Bill.

I vouch for the correctness of these statements touching upon the record of Mr. Camp.

Yours for the Truth,
GEORGE MAYO NEWTON,
Candidate for Representative 64th District, Milam County.
